NEW YORK LIFE STABLE VALUE INVESTMENTS

Guaranteed Interest Pension Account Product Guide As of 12/31/2025

The Guaranteed Interest Pension Account (GPA) is for Defined Benefit Plans and is a general account group annuity product seeking to provide a low-risk, stable investment option. The GPA offers participants competitive yields and limited volatility, with a guarantee of principal and accumulated interest.

Contract Issuer & Guarantee Provider

New York Life Insurance Company issues the GPA group annuity contract and provides the guarantee of principal and accumulated interest.<sup>1</sup> A leading provider of stable value products for over 40 years, New York Life currently manages more than $34 billion in stable value assets. New York Life Insurance Company, a mutual life insurance company founded in 1845, holds the highest ratings for financial strength currently awarded to any U.S. life insurer from the four major ratings agencies:

| A++       | AAA   | Aa1     | AA+               |
|-----------|-------|---------|-------------------|
| A.M. BEST | FITCH | MOODY'S | STANDARD & POOR'S |

Source: Individual third-party ratings reports as of 9/30/2025.
Note: The financial strength of New York Life Insurance Company applies only to its insurance products and not to investment products which are subject to market risk and fluctuation in value.

Investment Strategy

The GIA is not managed to a specific benchmark. Rather, New York Life utilizes a disciplined and highly collaborative investment process that is grounded on the following key principles:

- Portfolio diversification • Long-term focus
- Bottom-up fundamental • Appropriate level of liquidity research

New York Life may use affiliated and/or unaffiliated investment managers in the implementation of the overall General Account investment strategy.

Contract Contributions

Contributions to the GIA group annuity contract are invested in a fixed income portfolio within New York Life's general account. The general account is invested primarily in an array of securities and cash-equivalent investments in accordance New York Insurance Law. These investments are intended to provide a stable crediting rate consistent with preservation of principal. The primary investment objective of the general account is to ensure that New York Life can meet its obligations to contractholders and policyholders.

GPA is a stable value product that guarantees principal and accumulated interest. GPA is a group annuity contract issued and guaranteed by New York Life Insurance Company. The contract seeks to provide participants with competitive crediting rates and limited volatility consistent with preservation of principal. The initial crediting rate will last through 12/31 of the first year and will reset every 1/1 and 7/1 in subsequent years. Rates in subsequent years are declared in advance and fixed for six-month periods. GPA has a contractual minimum crediting rate and allows daily liquidity at full book value for participant-initiated requests.

* Existing clients may receive a different rate based upon the date of their initial investment.

Minimum Crediting Rate

At each crediting rate reset date, New York Life will determine the minimum interest rate based on the interest rate formula detailed in the GPA group annuity contract. During the following six-month period, interest credited to the contract will not change and cannot fall below the minimum rate for that period. The minimum rate is subject to change every six months but will always be subject to a range between 1.00% and 3.00%.

Minimum Investment Amount

An employer should expect to fund at least $3 million within the first 12 months. If the employer sponsors more than one plan which will use the GPA group annuity contract, assets will be aggregated with regard to the minimum.

Contract Availability<sup>2</sup>

A separate GPA contract may be issued to each plan; and each contract may contain different provisions and features required by applicable government regulations and plan designs. Prior to New York Life granting approval for a GPA contract, a plan sponsor must complete and submit a Background Form.

Contract Restrictions for Contributions, Withdrawals, and Rebalancing for Defined Benefit Plans

For defined benefit contracts, aggregate withdrawal requests resulting from an employer-initiated event will be subject to an annual limit based on the plan's GPA contract balance at the beginning of the year. If these withdrawals exceed this limit in any given year, the withdrawals will be paid, but the excess over the limit may be subject to a market value adjustment and may result in a charge to the remaining balance.

After the initial contract funding, additional contributions may be limited to no more than 25% of the GPA contract balance per calendar year without prior approval from New York Life.

Plans may withdraw amounts from the contract to effect changes in the plan's asset allocation. These withdrawals may be made at book value subject to rebalancing limits of no more than 10% per calendar quarter, and 15% in any one calendar year.

*Representative performance data for periods greater than one year is annualized.

Past performance is no guarantee of future results. The expense charges shown above may not have existed for all time periods presented. The New York Life Guaranteed Interest Pension Account is a group annuity contract and not a mutual fund or collective trust. New York Life Insurance Company provides the guarantee of principal and accumulated interest. The New York Life Guaranteed Interest Pension Account is not guaranteed by the FDIC or the federal government.

IMPORTANT NOTE ABOUT REPRESENTATIVE PERFORMANCE: Each client that holds a GPA contract has its own unique history of crediting rates depending on the exact date its contract was initially funded and on the expense charge elected. Accordingly, the representative performance shown above does not apply to other GPA clients. Regardless of the expense charge, not all clients would have experienced the performance shown because prior prevailing crediting rates have been different for older contracts. Data presented shows the return a client would have received assuming an investment in the contract for only the exact time period indicated. For example, the 3-year return assumes a client initially funded its GPA contract exactly three years ago, while the 1-year return assumes a client initially funded its contract exactly one year ago. No single client could have initially funded its GPA contract both one year and three years ago.

Historical New Contract Crediting Rates

The five-year historical gross and net annualized crediting rates for new GPA clients are included below. Existing GPA clients may experience different performance histories dependent upon entry date into the product.

| Period                     | Annualized Return Gross of Fees | Annualized Return Net 0.10% expense | Annualized Return Net 0.25% expense | Annualized Return Net 0.35% expense | Annualized Return Net 0.50% expense | Annualized Return Net 0.75% expense |

Contract Termination Provisions for Defined Benefit and Cash Balance Plans

A contractholder may terminate the GPA contract at any time upon at least 60, but no more than 90, days advance written notice to New York Life. The plan may elect to:

1. receive an immediate lump sum payment subject to a two-way (+/-) market value adjustment (MVA), or
2. receive six (6) annual installment payments at book value over a period of five (5) years with a fixed crediting rate.

The MVA formula is set forth in the GPA contract and New York Life will provide the MVA factor inputs upon request.

New York Life may also terminate the GPA contract upon 30 days written notice to the contractholder. In that case, New York Life will pay out the full balance of the GPA within 90 days of the termination date.

Expense & Revenue Options

New York Life will apply an annual expense charge to cover expenses for administration of the group annuity contract and various recordkeeping and other services provided by third parties and/or affiliates of New York Life. Pursuant to a separate agreement, a portion of the expense charge for the GPA may be shared with third parties to help defray eligible plan expenses. The expense charge is deducted from the gross crediting rate to arrive at the net crediting rate. Other expense levels may be available.

New York Life may potentially earn more or less revenue if the investment return on the assets in the New York Life general account attributable to the GPA group annuity contract differs from the interest credited to the GPA.

Please contact your New York Life Stable Value Investments Sales Director with questions, or to obtain a copy of the GPA specimen contract.

1 While the GPA carries relatively low risk, there are some risks associated with the GPA group annuity contract, including, but not limited to: (1) the risk that New York Life will default on its obligations under the contract or that other events could render the contract invalid; (2) the risk that the contract is terminated and, as a result, payments from the contract are subject to a negative market value adjustment or are paid over an extended period of time, depending on the terms of the particular contract; or (3) that certain transfers will require a 90-day holding period in an investment option with increased exposure to risk; (4) the risk that certain actions taken by an employer or plan sponsor (for example, mergers, spin-offs, lay-offs, early retirement incentives, bankruptcy of the plan sponsor) could, depending on the type of contract, result in participant withdrawals and transfers being subject to payment restrictions, withdrawal charges or negative market value adjustments.

2 The majority of qualified plans will utilize contract policy form No: GPA-GEN.-2. The above mentioned withdrawal, transfer, and termination provisions are specific to this policy form no. Alternate contract forms, with different withdrawal, transfer, and termination provisions may be available, depending on plan type. Please contact your NYL Sales Director for additional information. Issuance of the Guaranteed Interest Account group annuity contract to a plan is contingent upon receipt and approval of required plan information.

In an unfunded nonqualified and/or deferred compensation plan, the guarantee of principal and accumulated interest is made to the contractholder. Participant accounts in these types of plans may be subject to other creditors of your employer and principal is not guaranteed to the participant.

New York Life may earn more or less from amounts invested in the GPA than the interest amount it credits depending on investment conditions affecting the general account. When the investments in the GPA earn more than what is credited, New York Life retains the difference, known as "spread" revenue. In accordance with its needs, the plan selects the expense charge rate for its GPA contract from several available rates offered by New York Life. New York Life deducts the expense charge selected by the Plan, a portion of which may be paid to other plan service providers.

The product features described in this document are governed by the terms of the group annuity contract between New York Life and the contractholder. For a copy of the form of group annuity contract and for copies of the statutory financial statements of New York Life Insurance Company, please contact a member of your service team. Policy Form Nos: GP-GPA-GEN, GPA-GEN.-2, New York Life Insurance Company, New York, NY.

The GPA is a group annuity contract and not a mutual fund or a collective trust. New York Life Insurance Company provides the guarantee of principal and accumulated interest. This option is not guaranteed by the FDIC or the federal government. New York Life may earn more or less than the interest rate it credits to the GPA. The interest rate that New York Life credits to the GPA will never be less than 1.00%. Past performance is no guarantee of future results.
